Drawings

Figures 2 and 7 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: at page 2, line 17 "patent reference 1" is unclear.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tong (4,843,607) who teaches the combination recited in applicant's claims 1 and 2 as follows:

Carrying out an exclusive-addition process of remainder data obtained as a result of dividing said received data by a generating function ("check symbols generated in a conventional Reed-Solomon re-encoder", column 2, lines 36-38),

Including an error event virtually generated in said received data by a generating function in order to find remainder data generated after a tentative-correction process for said virtually generated error event ("are transformed by a matrix implementing a given permutation of the check symbol locations to produce a corresponding set of virtual check symbols", column 2, lines 38-41)

Art Unit: 2133

Correcting said error event of said tentative-correction process and an error event generated at a second location in said received data when said error event generated at said second location can be detected on the basis of said remainder data generated after said tentative-correction process ("These, of course, are the errors to be added back into the corresponding locations in the received codeword to obtain correction", column 2, lines 45-47).

Tong further shows the combination of applicant's claim 4 as follows:

An error correction circuit comprising: a 1-event-error correction circuit for correcting a 1-event error of post-demodulation reproduced data ("Accordingly, error trapping guarantees the correction of only a single erroneous symbol in all cases", column 4, lines 26-28); and a 2-event-error correction circuit for receiving an output of said 1-event-error correction circuit and correcting a 2-event error, which cannot be corrected by said 1-event-error correction circuit ("In order to trap any pattern of two errors (i.e., two symbols of the received codeword contain errors), the virtual check locations are permuted in accordance with a mathematical object known as the cyclic difference set", column 2, lines 14-17).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-9 are allowed.

Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
